Harrison Keller, COMMISSIONER OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Agency Mission

The mission of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) is to provide leadership and coordination for Texas higher education and to promote access, affordability, quality, success, and cost efficiency through 60x30TX, resulting in a globally competitive workforce that positions Texas as an international leader.

Agency Vision

The THECB will be recognized as an international leader in developing and implementing innovative higher education policy to accomplish our mission.

Agency Philosophy

The THECB will promote access to and success in quality higher education across the state with the conviction that access and success without quality is mediocrity and that quality without access and success is unacceptable.

The THECB's core values are:

Accountability: We hold ourselves responsible for our actions and welcome every opportunity to educate stakeholders about our policies, decisions, and aspirations.

Efficiency: We accomplish our work using resources in the most effective manner.

Collaboration: We develop partnerships that result in student success and a highly qualified, globally competent workforce.

Excellence: We strive for excellence in all our endeavors.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age or disability in employment or the provision of services.

Executive Summary

Section 56.311(c-1) of the Texas Education Code requires that the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) annually provide the Legislature a report on the Toward EXcellence, Access, & Success (TEXAS) Grant Program. This report provides a series of appendices to conform with the statutory expectations. The following information is provided from the three preceding state fiscal years:

- allocations of TEXAS Grants by eligible institution;
- number of TEXAS Grants awarded, disaggregated by race, ethnicity, and expected family contribution;
- number of TEXAS Grants awarded through the Priority Model or through other eligibility criteria, also disaggregated by race, ethnicity, and expected family contribution; and
- persistence, retention, and graduation rates of TEXAS Grant recipients.

The TEXAS Grant Program remains the state's signature student financial aid program for financially needy, academically prepared Texas students enrolled at Texas public universities. The intent of the program is to ensure that tuition and fees for these students are covered if they continue to meet program requirements. This intent is reflected in the requirement that maximum annual award amounts be equal to the statewide average amount of tuition and fees at Texas public universities, as well as the requirement that institutions offer non-loan aid to cover any difference between the amount of tuition and fees owed by a student and the amount of the TEXAS Grant awarded to the student.

The Texas Legislature appropriated $786.4 million for TEXAS Grants for the 2018-2019 biennium. Despite this substantial appropriation, the continued increase in the number of eligible students, in addition to increased tuition and fees at public universities, have outpaced the program's ability to cover students' tuition and fees.

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2019, a total of 79,703 students received TEXAS Grant awards. Institutions heeded the THECB's recommendation to assist as many students as possible by awarding $5,000 "target amounts," rather than the maximum amount allowed in statute, resulting in an average award amount that covered only 54% of the average amount of statewide tuition and fees. The gap between the amount of tuition and fees owed and the amount of the students' TEXAS Grant awards continues to grow, requiring institutions to devote increasing amounts of institutional resources to close this gap.

From FY 2017 to FY 2019, the percentage of Hispanic TEXAS Grant recipients exceeded the percentage of Hispanic students represented in the total population of enrolled students by an average of 18.9 percentage points. In FY 2019, Hispanic students represented 38.4% of all Texas students enrolled in public higher education, while 56.5 % of all TEXAS Grant recipients were Hispanic students. The reverse is true for white students, while African American and Asian student representation among TEXAS Grant recipients mirrored their representation in the overall student population.

The distribution of TEXAS Grant recipients by Expected Family Contribution (EFC) has changed very little during the three-year period reported. In FY 2019, more than half of all recipients had EFCs equal to zero, and an additional 37% had EFCs of less than $4,000.

The "Priority Model" was implemented in fall 2013 (FY 2014) for students receiving first-time TEXAS Grant awards. This model prioritizes awarding grants to students who are better prepared academically and are more likely to graduate, improving the return on the state's investment. With this model, students who meet at least two of four criteria representing greater college preparedness receive priority over students meeting basic program eligibility requirements for initial awards.

The four-year graduation rate for students qualifying for grants under the Priority Model was 11.6 percentage points higher than for students meeting the Basic Eligibility requirements as fall 2015 entering freshmen. The six-year graduation rate for all TEXAS Grant recipients who entered college as freshmen in fall 2013 was slightly higher than the previous year, at 55.9%.

The rates of retention in the program from one award year to the next are notably higher for the five cohorts of students who qualified for initial grants under the Priority Model than for those who entered the program under the Basic Eligibility requirements. The number of students from the three Priority Model cohorts receiving fourth-year awards was 12, 14, and 15 percentage points higher than those entering the program under the Basic Eligibility requirements.

TEXAS Grant Operations

Expected Family Contribution

Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is a calculated amount based on a federal statutory formula established to determine how much the student's family can be expected to contribute toward the student's education costs in an academic year. In determining which students receive an initial award from funds remaining after renewal awards, institutions must assign the highest priority to students who meet the Priority Model requirements and whose EFC does not exceed 60% of the statewide average amount of tuition and fees for that academic year, shown below for FY 2017-2019:

- FY 2017: $5,233
- FY 2018: $5,430
- FY 2019: $5,690

TEXAS Grant Eligibility

Statutory reporting requirements include a breakdown of TEXAS Grants awarded through the Priority Model or through Basic Eligibility, as well as through Initial-Year or Continuing grants. These designations are described below.

Basic Initial-Year Eligibility

- Texas resident
- Demonstrate financial need
- Apply for all available financial aid
- Not have a baccalaureate degree
- Enroll at least three-quarter time
- Not convicted of a felony or crime involving a controlled substance
- Register with Selective Service
- Enroll as an undergraduate in a baccalaureate degree program through one of the following pathways:
 - High School Pathway: within 16 months of high school graduation
 - Military Pathway: within 12 months of an honorable military discharge (must have enlisted within 12 months of high school graduation)
 - Associate Pathway: within 12 months of receiving an associate degree
 - Texas Educational Opportunity Grant (TEOG) Pathway: after having received a TEOG, the state's primary grant program for students attending two-year institutions, and having completed at least 24 credit hours at a Texas institution with at least a 2.5 GPA

Priority Model Eligibility

In addition to meeting Basic Eligibility requirements, a student must meet at least two of the following four criteria to be considered through the Priority Model:

- Earn 12 hours of college credit courses (e.g., dual credit, AP); or graduate under the Distinguished Level of Achievement High School Plan or the International Baccalaureate Program

- Complete a math course beyond Algebra II
- Rank in the top third of high school graduating class or attain a B average
- Achieve a college readiness threshold as determined by the Texas Success Initiative

Continuing Eligibility

In addition to the requirements for Basic Initial-Year Eligibility, to receive a grant in the years following an initial award, a student must meet satisfactory academic progress expectations:

- Meet institutional Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements at end of initial award year
- Maintain program SAP requirements by completing at least 24 semester credit hours and achieving a 2.5 or higher GPA for each year following the initial award year

Enrollment Pathways

There are four pathways under which students may be eligible for the program: High School, Military, Associate, and TEOG. The TEOG Pathway did not take effect until FY 2016. As seen in Table 1, the percentage of TEXAS Grant recipients in the Associate and TEOG pathways continues to lag behind each pathway’s share of the eligible population (34.7% of eligible students in FY 2019 were in these pathways, but only 3.5% of students who were eligible through these pathways actually received TEXAS Grants). Fewer than five individuals received grants through the Military Pathway in FY 2019, so that pathway is not included in the table; due to FERPA Considerations, the exact number cannot be provided.

 TEOG Pathway requires receipt of TEOG in Fall 2014 or later.

Allocation Methodology

TEXAS Grant funding is appropriated to the THECB and then allocated among public universities and health-related institutions (HRIs) in accordance with a defined methodology. This methodology was revised by a negotiated rulemaking committee in 2016 and became effective in FY 2017.

The allocation methodology has two steps. First, the number of renewal students by institution is estimated based on past attrition rates and is multiplied by the institution’s average award amount, capped at the $5,000 target award. Second, the number of all eligible new students at each institution is divided by the number of eligible new students statewide and then multiplied by the total amount of remaining appropriations.

Source: FY 2017 CBM enrollment reports, TEXAS Grant End-of-Year report and FAD (1% of recipients are excluded due to student I.D. numbers that did not match); FY 2018 and 2019: FAD Note: Due to the small number of students receiving TEXAS Grants at HRIs, data by institution for these students are excluded from this table to ensure compliance with FERPA. The following are aggregated data for recipients attending HRIs: FY 2017: $66,683 for 12 students; FY 2018: $63,228 for 16 students; FY 2019: $206,738 for 49 students.

*An asterisk indicates a value less than 5, to remain in compliance with FERPA.

Note: Due to the small number of students receiving TEXAS Grants at HRIs, data by institution for these students are excluded from this table to ensure compliance with FERPA. The following are aggregated data for recipients attending HRIs: FY 2017: $66,683 for 12 students; FY 2018: $63,228 for 16 students; FY 2019: $206,738 for 49 students.

*An asterisk indicates a value less than 5, to remain in compliance with FERPA.

Appendix I: Six-Year Graduation and Persistence Rates, FY 2017-2019

Source: CBM enrollment reports and FAD

Graduation rates are based on first-time, full-time, degree-seeking students who enrolled in a minimum of 12 semester credit hours their first fall semester at a four-year public university and have graduated in six years or less from the same or another Texas public or independent institution. Persistence rates are based on first-time, full-time, degree-seeking students who enrolled in a minimum of 12 semester credit hours their first fall semester at a four-year public university and are still enrolled in higher education after six academic years but have not yet earned a baccalaureate degree.

Tables in this appendix include students in each initial grant cohort who received a TEXAS Grant in the years following the initial award year. A small number of students did not receive consecutive grants for all years shown but remained in the program. This is different from the standard persistence rates calculated by the THECB, since a student may persist in college while not remaining in the grant program (late application, change in level of need, academic performance issues, etc.).
