Quick Guide
Annual Progress Report for New Doctoral Program
And Other New Programs, As Required

Introduction

The Annual Progress Report system was designed to quickly move electronic reports up and down an institution's structure and finally to THECB. This passworded system revolves around the institution's chief academic officer (CAO) who specifies an institutional representative who will work on the report and the dean who will review it. The report is forwarded to THECB after the CAO's final review.

Chief Academic Officer

1. The CAO receives the first e-mail notice about four weeks prior to the progress report due date. The program name, start date, and progress report due date are in this message, along with a password for the CAO. The website address is: https://www1.thecb.state.tx.us/apps/DocProgs/.

Questions about the Annual Progress Report should be sent to James.Goeman@highered.texas.gov (512.427.6249). Technical questions about this system should be sent to Emma.Schoen@highered.texas.gov (512.427.6453).

3. The Full List of Annual Progress Reports link on the main menu directs you to a list of "Reports to be Filed" and "Archive" reports.

5. Add the name and email of the dean who will review the report, and then click the Distribute Code button to e-mail the code to the dean.

6. When the report has the status of Sent to CAO, give it a final review, and then click the Forward to THECB button.
