Executive Summary

This report summarizes the results of the facilities audits conducted in Fiscal Year 2022. Audits consist of in-person Peer Review Team (PRT) visits composed of agency personnel and staff of public institutions of higher education. Congruent with the work of the PRT, the institution's internal auditor is responsible for verifying that the institution has correctly submitted facilities development projects to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB). The audits measure the accuracy of an institution's facilities inventory records as submitted to THECB and certified by the institutions by November 1 annually.

The institutions audited during this timeframe were:

- Texas Tech University;
- University of North Texas;
- Prairie View A&M University; and
- The University of Texas at Arlington.

All four of the institutions audited had no findings, and scoring indicates that the institutions are accurately recording and submitting facilities information to the THECB.

Introduction

Texas Education Code, Section 61.0583, requires the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) to periodically conduct a comprehensive audit of all educational and general facilities on the campuses of public universities and the Texas State Technical Colleges. The audit must verify the accuracy on the institutions' facilities inventories and ensure that construction projects have been submitted to the THECB in accordance with Texas Education Code, Section 61.058, and THECB rules and have received approval when required. The facilities audit and inventory programs are defined in the Texas Administrative Code, Title 19, Part 1, Chapter 17, Resource Planning.

Facilities Audit Report

Facilities audits are conducted with two groups participating. The institution's internal auditor conducts the review of the institution's facility project development and issues a report to the institution's chief executive officer and the staff of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

The peer review team (PRT) conducts an onsite audit of the facility inventory and internal control procedures. The PRT consists of two university representatives (from other institutions in Texas that are not within the same system) accompanied by one THECB staff person. The PRT report is sent to the management of the institution at the conclusion of the field work. Institutional management reviews the report and is given the opportunity to respond, which may include an action plan to address any recommendations of the PRT or internal auditor findings, then sends a final response to THECB.

THECB staff provides the Facilities Audit Report to the board of the THECB (Board) or the appropriate standing committee of the Board, and within 30 days, a copy of the report is filed with the audited institutions and the Legislative Budget Board.

Overview of the PRT Audit

The PRT audit is an evaluation of space inventory, reporting along eight metrics with a score from 1 to 5 (5 is best). More detailed definitions are in the CBM Reporting Manual, but the eight metrics include the following:

1. Unique identification, which identifies rooms by an alphabetic or numerical code
2. Space Use Codes, which describe the predominate use of the room (for example, 110 is a classroom)
3. Functional Category Codes, which describe the function of a room (for example, 12 is Vocational/Technical Instruction)
4. Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) Codes, which describe the subject matter of courses taught in the space (for example, CIP Code 16 is Foreign Languages, Literatures, and Linguistics)
5. Accuracy of proration of Functional Category Codes
6. Accuracy of room area
7. Accuracy of education and general (E&G) room area
8. Accuracy of seating capacity

Audit Results in 2022

Texas Tech University – May 2022

The institution received top marks in all categories except Space Use Code, where the institution received a 4 out of 5. The overall score was 98%. There were no findings by the institution's internal auditor.

University of North Texas – June 2022

The institution received top marks in all categories. The overall score was 100%. There were no findings by the institution's internal auditor.
